Penn High School
2019-2020

Dear Reader,

The original 'Burn Book' from the popular movie, Mean Girls, was inteneded to put others down. However, through out the film, they learn the importance of kindness and openmindedness. Our inspiration from the book comes from these lessons. We hope to showcase how our own students embrace kindness and help others, with no better way then by capturing such moments within these pages. The community at Penn High School is a wonderful example of how we can rise by lifting others. When it comes to our kindness, the limit does not exist.

Your editors,
Grace Julian and Dalya Tribble

Student Life

Between classwork, extracurriculars, sports and family life, students at Penn High School often have little time outside of school. The scarcity of this time makes it very important. One of the best parts of high school is the inseperable friendships it creates between students. In their spare moments, students at Penn found time to make lifelong memories with their friends and family. Students found ways to cherish their time away from school through activities like photoshoots, hikes, college football games and trips near and far. Other students worked on advancing their academic careers through summer programs and charity projects in their free time. Altogether, it is certain that the students of Penn High School have made plenty of joyful memories that will last them a lifetime this year to look back upon and smile.

SUMMER

Summertime for Penn students means numerous things depending on their schedules. However, all students will agree that they love summer because it gives them a time to do what they want without worrying about schoolwork. This sunny season brings on freedom, time at work, vacations, and practices for most students. This summer, Penn students spent their time traveling, hanging out with friends, and wasting away their days in the warm sun. No matter what, these hot summer days are always spent making memories that will last a lifetime.

Athletic Trainers

From torn ACL's to blisters to ice baths for tired muscles, the athletic trainers are a great help to all of the student-athletes. There is a wide assortment of resources available to get our athletes back on their feet. The Penn Sports Medicine group gets a great opportunity for hands-on interaction with athletic injuries. Not only do they help out the football teams, but also any athlete that may need some sort of care. They are open to athletes of every sport and every age.This allows for the trainers to grow and for the athletes to feel their very best!

Student Assistants

Penn students have the oppurtunity to help teachers of their choice with their daily responsibilities such as printing, proofreading and communicating with students. A student assistant is normally categorized as organized, mature, and exceptionally responsible. They are also skilled in the subjects they choose to help with. Now even though becoming a student assistant may be a tough job at times, there is still so much to enjoy as they have the chance become closer with their designated teacher and form bonds with one another through their work. Overall, most student assistants would agree that this role has positively impacted their high school experience and prepared them for future jobs as well.

Foreign Exchange Students

All the way from Germany , Sweden, Portugal, Brazil, England and Thailand- eight exchange students left their home countries this year to experience high school in the United States. Penn's goal for exchange students is to provide them with a comprehensive experience indulging in the life of an American high school student. Whether it be academic, social or athletic, these students are encouraged to dive in to life at Penn and learn about American culture through hands on experiences with their peers and host families. They were able to do this by going on class trips, attend football games and even play on sports teams. Students made life long friends during their time at Penn and have become part of the Kingsmen Nation. Over the course of their year, students make so many memories that will carry on with them throughout their lives. Unfortunately, COVID-19 cut their time at Penn short, but we can't wait to see all that they do after returning to their home countries.

What is the biggest difference between here and your home country?

"Everything seems a lot more different from my school in Thailand. Penn have good athletics and education. Since I've been here I like how they manage the classes and schedule here." - Keno Sritaketh, 12 (Thailand)

"Penn is way bigger than my school in Germany. Penn also have a lot more classes to choose from." - Lena Anselmann, 12 (Germany)

"The biggest difference is that in Brazil the teachers are the ones that move classes and at penn students move classrooms." - Pedro Ignacio, 12 (Brazil)

"The biggest different is the school spirit Penn has that we don't have in Sweden. Penn is so much bigger than my school and gives a lot of opportunities." - Clara Lindgren, 12 (Sweden)

"The size is the main difference. It's much larger at Penn." - Dominic House, 12 (England)

FALL

The fall season here at Penn High School is favored by many students. Fall gives students a great opportunity to hang out and spend time with each other while their class work is still light. Students enjoy participating in activities such as spending time at Penn football games, picking pumpkins at the pumpkin patch, going to Notre Dame football games, hanging out at Halloween parties, and seeing the latest movies. In the fall, many popular movies were released including 'Joker' and 'It Chapter Two'. An app called 'Tik Tok' became a very big trend with countless students obsessing over it as they laugh, dance and share memories through this video-making platform. These activities and trends help bring students together outside of the classroom. The countless joyful memories made this fall season by students at Penn High School are sure to be unforgettable.

Student Section

Penn High School has quite the reputation for their incredible school spirit both in and outside of school. The schools of the 574 are no match for Penn's loud and proud student sections. Many students look forward to dressing up for different themes such as Tropical, USA, and Jersey Night as they cheer on their friends on the field or court all year round. The spirit of Penn students is a crucial element of the success our athletes bring to their sports, as nothing is more motivating than a sea of familiar faces cheering you on. Fire Up, Go Penn!

Girls' Golf

This season, Penn Girls' Golf had spectacular performances all across the board. The team worked hard throughout their summer vacations to prep for the early fall season, and their practice surely showed on the course. They competed in several tournaments across the state, and came home with several big wins on both a schoolwide and induvidual scale. The team played extraordinarily well in the NIC Championship and took home first place. Most notably, the skill and passion of this team helped the girls win their twelfth consecutive Sectional Title. While their success on the course is undeniable, the players also bring their success to the classroom. Lyvia Li, 12, and Grace Szklarek, 12 made the academic all state team and Kate Burnett, 12, recieved honorable mention. Boys' Varsity
Soccer

The Boys' Varsity soccer team had a hard fought season. The team's success came from their teamwork and great work ethic. With the help of amazing coaches, the boys put in the work they needed to grow and become better players together. The boys had a challenging schedule, but persevered throughout every game to get the win. The team worked hard at every practice, aiming to reach their full potential every game. PBS traveled near and far across the area, meeting against good teams in tournaments and league games. Being apart of Penn boys soccer has helped this team become great student athletes for our school. With great senior leaders the team was always keeping a positive mind set. Their season came to a bittersweet end, but their run was very impressive, improving and full of joyful memories to be cherished forever for this team.

Boys' JV Soccer

The Boys' Junior Varsity Soccer team had a great season ending with a good record overall. They pulled off games working together as a team to bring out all the wins they achieved. With the help of their coaches and peers, the boys pushed each other to get better with each and every practice. The team practices all summer and trains everyday after school in season. The team traveled together to many tournaments and away games to face difficult teams in exciting matches. The JV boys had an outstanding season overall.

Boys' Freshman Soccer

The Boys' Freshman Soccer team dominated this year. If there's anything the team took away this season, it's that hard work pays off. Through a lot of conditioning, the boys were able to improve their endurance, ultimately allowing them to outrun their opponents. The boys have a bright future and have only been apart of the team for one season. The Freshman team trained throughout the summer and continued their training through the fall. The team won competitive games against great teams locally and the future of Boys' Soccer looks bright.

Girls Varsity

Soccer

The Varsity Girls' Soccer team has had many accomplishments over the past couple years. With their unmatched work ethic and talent, the team continues to reach their goals every season. With a total of 17 seniors this season, the team had great leaders to bring the girls together and work towards success both on and off the field. The girls follow a saying "OGT", standing for "One Game at a Time". This saying has been a reminder over the past several years for the team to focus on being in the moment instead of what's to come. This passionate and hardworking team is certainly one to remember for years to come.

Girls JV

Soccer

The Girls' JV soccer team has had an incredible season this fall. The team continued to work hard at every practice, aiming to reach their full potential at every game. The team did weight workouts, ran, and practiced all summer in preparation for the season. Penn Girls' JV soccer traveled near and far across the Midwest to play against challenging teams. The girls traveled to Zionsville for a weekend to play some of the best junior varsity programs in the state. The Lady Kingsmen also dominated against local teams in the area, winning almost every conference game possible. During season the girls would be challenged by coaches with "black flag day" representing an extremely hard workout. One of the coaches would set up the black flag with a skull on it and the girls would run sprints and do core workouts all practice. The girls showed amazing perseverance and it has proved during their games. Being apart of the Penn Girls soccer family has helped all of these girls grow as outstanding students and athletes. The Penn girls soccer program has a promising future with these future varsity athletes in years to come. With their hearts on the field, there is nothing this team can't achieve for themselves and Penn High School.

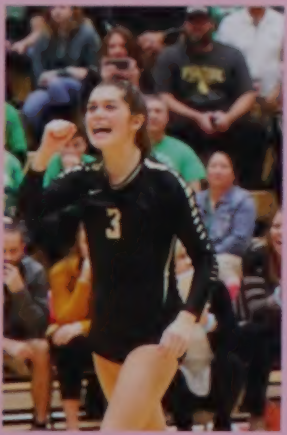
Varsity Volleyball

The Varsity volleyball team had an incredible season! It takes immence hard work and dedication, in order to be successful. They tried their best at every game, and all of their practice certainly paid off. The volleyball team finished their season with incredible first place victories at NIC and Sectional. The Lady Kingsmen also worked extremely hard against Laporte in Regionals. All four seniors, Molly Pooler, Bella Philips, Kylee Hixenbaugh, and Ally Hickey, made Academic All-State, meaning that all four girls met the GPA requrement for the year. This is an amzing accomplishment that shows their dedication to success both on and off the court. Emma Hickey, Addy Kois, and Kylee Hixenbaugh, were named First Team All Conference, and players Bella Phillips and Molly Pooler were named Second Team All Conference. The entire team demonstrated great leadership skills that made it possible for them to play at the highest possible level. The team really came together as a family and help each other throughout the season. This makes it not only easier, but more fun to go to practice and games. We are extremely proud of the volleyball team, and we cannot wait to see what they accomplish next year!

What do you love most about your team?

" The Penn Volleyball team had amazing chemistry this year. We wanted to see each other improve and become better people. I couldn't of asked to be a part of a better program."
Molly Pooler, 12.

" love a lot about this team but if it had to be one thing it would out team chemistry. Wether it was 7 a.m. or 4 p.m. we always seemed to be sharing many laughs. It really was just a great group of girls who knew how to get stuff done but could also have a good time."
Bella Phillips, 12.



"The thing I love the most about my team is the friendships and memories that I've made over the years."
Kylee Hixenbaugh, 12

"The thing I loved the most about the team was the competitiveness that was shown in all the players.
Ally Hickey, 12.

My favorite thing about this team is the environment that Coah Pawlik created for us. The team was like a family and that made it easier to play at our highest level!"
- Addy Kois, 11

Girls' JV Volleyball

The JV Lady Kingsmen has had an incredible season. The girls trained hard all summer and during their season for all of their wins. The girls grew together and formed a great bond with one another. The future varsity athletes have created a path of high character students and champions. The future for Penn volleyball looks bright and competitive. JV ended their seasons strong with many wins. The girls practice, almost every day of the week while also having games for the first part of their year. The teams dedication to the sport has made the team special. Good job Lady Kingsmen with your striking season!

The Freshman volleyball team dominated the court this season. These talented girls worked countless hours to achieve their goals of being undefeated this season with a record of 31-0. Successfully beating all of their opponents, they created a close bond and lasting friendships. A team this victorious will be a threat in the future as well, making next year's volleyball team even stronger! Great job ladies and congratulations on such a successful season!

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis team was excited about this season from the very start. They worked hard throughout the season winning matches and staying focused at practices. The Kingsmen displayed outstanding teamwork and sportsmenship leading up to Sectionals as they dominated against local teams. At Sectionals, the Kingsmen had a great win against South Bend Adams, defeating them with a score of 3-2. The Boys' closed their season by winning their 18th consecutive Sectional crown and 25th in program history. Boys' Cross Country

The Penn Boys' Cross Country team had a very successful season this fall. After working hard all summer, countless hours of practice certainly paid off. They faced tough competition from across the state, but this team never backed down from any challenges they faced throughout the season. With Coach Starkweather, Coach Miller and Coach Blazo's seasoned guidance and intense training, this team has produced some of the fiercest runners in the area. Penn had a large team this fall with exemplary students from every grade. Both on and off the course, these boys have proven themselves to be hardworking student athletes with great sportsmanship. This phenomenal attitude was even acknowledged by the Indiana High School Sports Association this fall, as they rewarded Senior Dustin Smith with a medal for displaying integrity, character and respect. After a successful regular season with multiple exciting victories, this team was determined to take their skills to the next level. The Penn Boy's Cross Country team was able to take home both the Sectional and Regional first place trophies with this champion mindset. Several members of the team qualified to run at Semi-State, and worked together to earn eighth place for Penn to close the season. The future of Penn Boy's Cross Country is certainly bright, and we cannot wait to see what amazing things these boys will accomplish next year!

What has running Cross Country taught you?

Evan Futa, 11, says planning runs and mentally adapting to either kicking it into high gear or holding back is key to a successful run. More than anything, trying to have fun with it and being around your team helps you succeed.

Carter Kaser, 10, says that personal growth and work ethic are some of the key parts towards being a part of the Cross Country team.

Brock Trump, 12, says that the work ethic that the coach puts into their runners as well as the teamwork environment play into making a successful and memorable Cross Country career.

Cohl Fox, 12, has learned important life lessons such as perserverance and teamwork after a long but successful Cross Country career.

Benjamin Boardley, 11, believes a paramount characteristic of being a runner for the team is being able to display mental strength rather than just your physical traits.

What's your favorite memory with the team?

"My favorite memory with the team would be from the end of my junior season. Sixteen of us traveled down to the State Finals that year. The night before the race, we were all gathered in one of the hotel rooms and everyone was singing along to " I Anna Dance with Somebody" by Whitney Houston. It was a blast being able to bond with my team during the karaoke session. I'll never forget all the laughs and giggles that night."
Cassidy Cripe, 12

"My favorite memory with the team was going to Culver to race in complete mud. After the race we all as a team went into the lake to rinse ourself off from all the mud covering us. It was definitely the most fun meet throughout my cross country seasons."- Brooke Neal, 12

Girls' Cross Country

The Girls Cross Country team had a fantastic season this year. They won their 11th consecutive Conference and Sectional championship, while being runners up at Regional! These girls have worked hard to overcome injuries, bad meets, and everything in between. All of their continuous hardwork payed off when several were able to run an all-time personal record. They are able to do this by giving their all at practice, meets, and even at home workouts. It's not just a personal victory when they PR, but an accomplishment the entire team celebrates.

The girls all agree, it's not just a team they are apart of, they are a family. Throughout all their time spent together, they have gotten to know each other and formed bonds that will last well beyond their high school years. Their cross country years will follow them wherever they end up in life. They all know they will always have a people cheering them on!

Varsity
Football

The Varsity Football team has accomplished so much this season! With a team of 96 players, they were able to do great things. The Kingsmen started off their season with a few losses but were quickly able to come back and play like champions. The team dedicated its self to win and by working stronger as a team – they prevailed. After intense weeks of practice and some wins under their belts, the team was much more confident and powerful on the field just in time for the postseason to begin. The Kingsmen were able to defeat Portage 13-6 to open up the State Tournament. Unfortunately, the Kingsmen lost to Warsaw 34-18 in the Sectional Championship. The Kingsmen put in hand work and were able to finish the season 6-5. The team was able to grow both on and off the field through these experiences, and hope to bring this passion back for next season. Let's go Kingsmen!

Junior Varsity Football

The future of Penn football is on this team. With an outstanding record of 6-1, the future looks bright for Penn. This year the Junior Varsity football team learned what it meant to be a Kingsmen. They learned the discipline, the plays, and the strategy. More importantly, they learned how to play with sportsmanship and how to respect themselves and the other teams. They took a tough loss to start out the season but bounced back and won the remainder of their games. They are proud to be Kingsmen!

Andrew Carnegie once said "Teamwork is the ability to work together toward a common vision, the ability to direct individual accomplishments toward organizational objectives. It is the fuel that allows common people to attain uncommon results". This could've been the motto for this years freshmen team. The team had nothing but respect for one another. The result of such respect allowed them to have a successful season and play like true champions. The hard work seen from this group outlines a bright future for football at Penn High School.

Varsity Cheerleading

The Varsity cheer team has accomplished so much this season! With a team of 16 girls, they were able to do great things. The team started off their season with an awesome cheer camp at Indiana Ultimate. During this time, the team learned a lot of new complex stunts. They also reviewed motions and the technique needed for most skills. After an intense week at Indiana Ultimate, the team was much more confident with the skills that they were performing at the games! "Although it´s a hard week, I´m really glad that we get to go, it helps a lot"-Faith Haluska, 12. Watching the girls cheer under the friday night lights was always fun, due to their positive energy and perfectly executed stunts. Junior Varsity Cheerleading

The Junior Varsity cheer team had an incredible season! The girls did a great job learning lots of new skills in order to perform them during the football games. Learning new stunts takes an immense amount of focus and patience to make sure that they are able to learn these skills. During practices, the girls work on stunting, tumbling, motions, and jumps. The bases have to make sure that they are doing their job correctly, while also keeping their flyer safe. A flyer has to stay tight in the air to ensure that the stunt will hit. After lots of practice, the cheerleaders are finally able to show off what they have been working on, to everyone in the stands! They worked so hard this season and we can't wait to see what they do next year!

Freshmen Cheerleading

With 19 girls new to Penn High School cheer, this team did a great job growing their skills for the future. They had to learn many new things season including stunts, jumps, tumbling, and cheers. The girls had to stay focused and determined at practice in order to perfect their skills. They then got to show off what they can do during the football games! ¨It was really cool showing off our stunts during the games. It made the hard practices worth it¨, says Emma Sidorowicz, 09. Overall, they had a fantastic season and we can´t wait to see what they accomplish next year!

What was the most challenging part of this season?

The hardest part about cheer his season was not being cared to try new things. When ou get hurt, you have to get ght back up and try again!"
Anna Yergler, 09

" One of the hardest parts of this season was staying positive when something did not go the way we wanted it to."

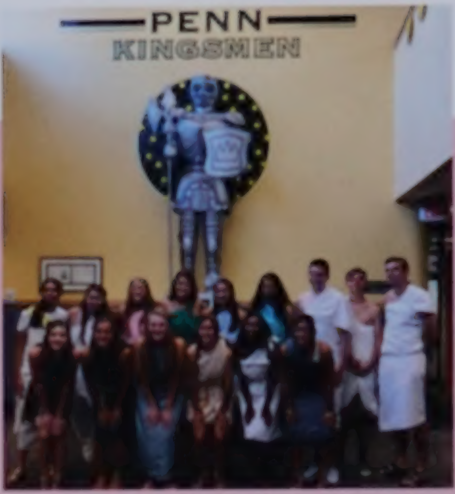
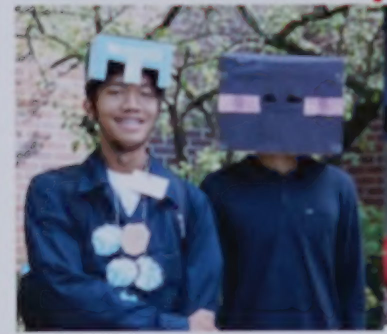
Spirit Week



As the school year begins, stress and tests become prevalent in the average Penn student's life. Thankfully, the year also begins with a fun and exciting Homecoming Week! Penn students gear up this year in the following themes to show their Homecoming week pride.

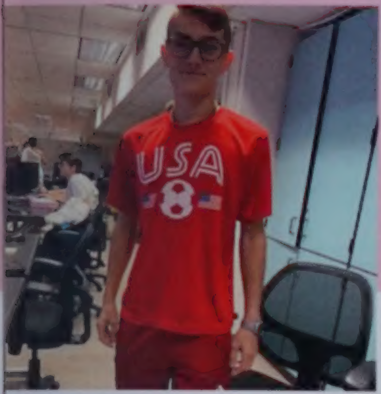
MONDAY: Meme/Twin Day

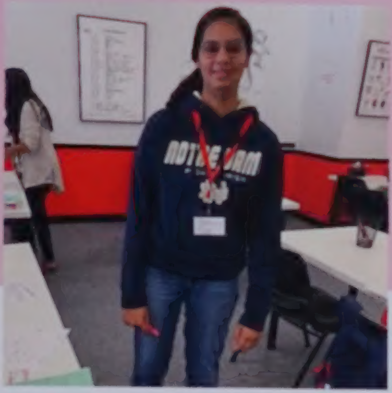


TUESDAY: Pajama Day

WEDNESDAY: Sports/Jersey Day

THURSDAY: Red, White, and Blue Day





THURSDAY: Toga Day (Seniors)

FRIDAY: Black Out

Girls' Powderpuff

On September 18th, the annual Girls' Powderpuff game took place on Penn's TCU Freed Field. Powderpuff football consists of multiple games of flag football between girls from each grade level. Penn students have enjoyed this sport for many years, and it is an exciting event for both players and spectators. Per tradition, the Juniors played the Freshmen and the Sophomores played the Seniors in their first games. The Juniors won 7-6 and the Seniors won 24-0. Following the initial games, the Sophomores and Freshmen would battle for a third place title, while the Juniors and Seniors rested up for the championship game.The fight for third place ended in a 0-0 tie. In the championship game, the Seniors took the crown with a 12-0 victory. This win marks the second championship in a row for the Class of 2020, as they dominated last year's Powderpuff games with a first place victory as well.

Homecoming Game

Penn High School's football team took on South Bend Adams for the annual Homecoming Game on September 20th, 2019. The Kingsmen dominated the Eagles, finishing the game with a whopping 62-32 final score. Parents and students had a wonderful night while cheering their family and friends on as the football team brought in another hard fought win for Penn. The student section showed their roaring school spirit by showing up in a sea of white for the game's theme. The exciting night also included outstanding performances from the Singing Kingsmen and the Marching Band, and the seniors crowned the Homecoming King and Queen.

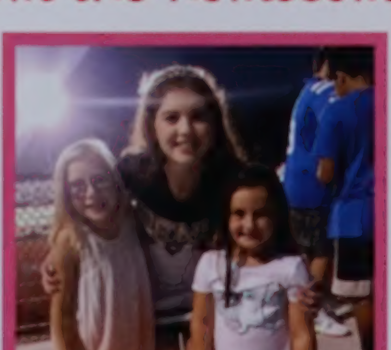
2. Carson Mumaw, 11, and his teammate celebrate a touchdown the team made.
3. Two Kingsmen go in for a tackle on an Adams player who has the ball.
4. Penn students took pride in cheering on their classmates during the game from the student section, dressing in all white for the game's theme.
5. The Singing Kingsmen sang the national anthem before the game to kick off the night's festivities.

What was your favorite moment from the homecoming game?

"My favorite moment of the homecoming game was running onto the field and seeing the great turnout we had, it seemed like it brought the whole community together which was something really special." - Lucas Small, 12



"I loved walking out in front of the student section and hearing how supportive everyone was." - Emma Tornquist, 12

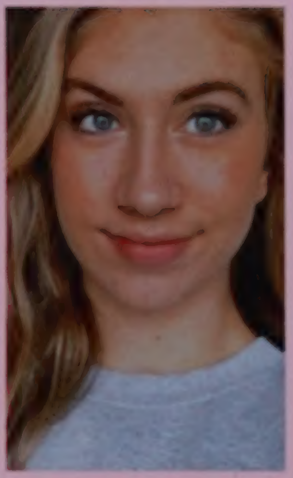
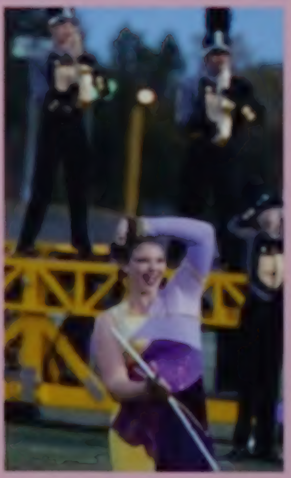
Color Guard

Penn's Color Guard is known for adding a special "wow" effect to marching band performances. After a long, dedicated season, their team placed 9th at the statewide marching band competition at Lucas Oil Stadium. The Marching Kingsmen and Color Guard practiced for over four hundred hours this season. Although this season was challenging, the Color Guard soared above obstacles and made it to Semi-State as well. These girls worked hard and used many props to help add effect to the the show. The weapon line worked hard during practice and put on a good show for their viewers. This Color Guard team has proven themselves to be a strong willed group who can go up and face any challenge with the best they got. This season was certainly a learning experience for their team, and they were able to close their season with many great achievements on and off the field. The most important take away for many team members is the sense of community Color Guard gives them. As stated by team member Haleigh Hahn, 11, "The Guard is a stong group of wounderful people who would take anything that was thrown at them and give it their all". We are looking forward to seeing what this team has in store for us next season!

What inspired you to join?



"My brother was in Marching Band and my sister was in Color Guard. I grew up watching them spinning." - Sydney Johnson, 12



"One of my childhood friends joined and I followed them in." - Tayler Coffman, 12

"I've been going to Penn games since I was 4 years old and half time was my Favorit." - Olivia Binder, 11

Marching Band

The Penn Marching Kingsmen's performance this year, "Unbalanced" captivated and awed audiences all the way to the State Championship in Indianapolis. Though not all was lost, ten schools arrived at state, so one took solace that in a competition pitting the best against the best, the Marching Kingsmen triumphed over even one of those daunting foes. Additionally, if you look at the band's placement at State last year, ninth place is an improvement over tenth. If things keep up at this rate, winning State will be an inevitability. Let's hear it once more for our graduating and our current Marching Kingsmen. As we head into the next step in our lives, and here's to our future Marching Kingsmen and their seniors as they continue to provide the crowds with excitement and energy!

'Shakespeare in Love'

Penn Theatre selected 'Shakespeare in Love', based off the popular book and movie, for their Fall show. The plot of this play depicts a frustrated William Shakespeare, in desperate need to escape writer's block. William Shakespeare meets a variety of characters throughout the show that eventually influence his writing of the famous play, 'Romeo and Juliet', known by millions to this day.

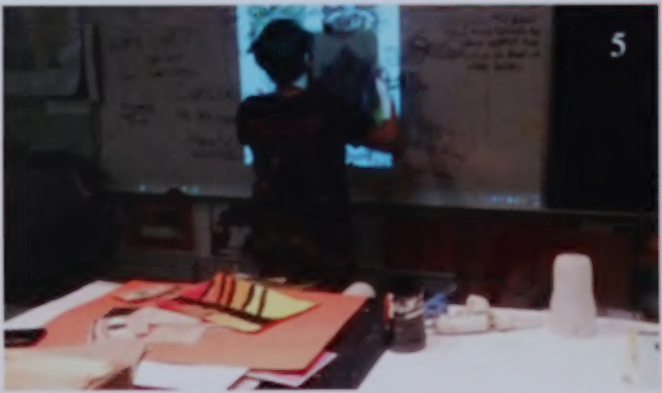
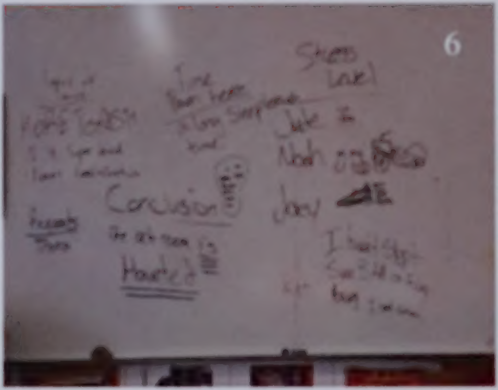
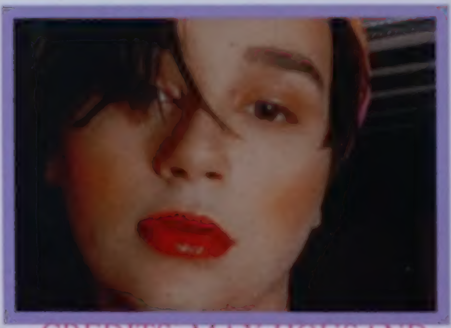
24 Hour Theater

24 hour theater is all about capturing time and creativity. 9 directors and writers worked together over the course of the night to create unique stories. The next day 31 actors worked with the directors to bring those stories to life. 4 artists worked throughout the night and during the day to create all of the art that was needed. The tech crew and stage managers worked to make sure everything ran smoothly. And of course without Mr. Coffee, Mrs. Ryan, and Miss. Armstrong, none o it would be possible.

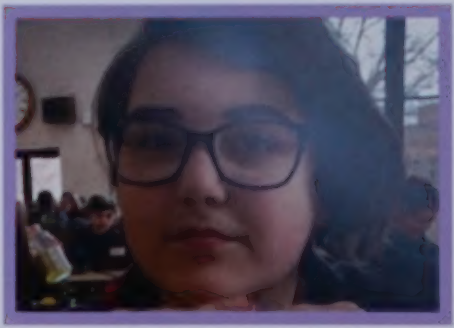




Why did you choose to do 24 Hour Theater?



"I chose to do 24 Hour Theater this year because some friends told me about it and I was intrigued. Honestly, it was the most stressful, but rewarding thing I have ever done" - Parker Stefaniak, 11



"I did 24 hour Theater becaus Mrs. Hope is a great teacher. Plus, I like to see how the chaos unfolds in the end." - Noah Bell, 11

G.A.P.P

The German American Partnershp Program, also known as GAPP, is a foreign exchange oppurtunity offered here at Penn High School. In the fall, students from a German high school are partnered with students taking German at Penn to stay in America for a few weeks. Then, Penn students visit them in Germany over summer vacation. Unfortunately, due to COVID-19 none of the Penn students were able to go to Germany, but the German students had an amazing time in Indiana. They enjoyed several activities with their host families, including kayaking, hiking, attending football games, and many more activities. They also had the chance to shadow their partners at school and learn about what its like to be a student in an American high school. The German students unanimously agreed that their favorite part of the trip was American food, and their favorite resturant was Taco Bell! We have high hopes that next year, our Penn students will get a chance to experience German culture as well.

Students from GAPP went kayaking together on the river as a group bonding activity.
Another highlight for the German students was visiting the city of Chicago and exploring different ndmarks there.
GAPP students were exposed to an infamous element of American high school culture by tending a rambunctious Penn Football game.
A visit to Amazing Acres was another favorite memory for students in GAPP.
GAPP students often stayed up late sharing stories with eachother about the differences in their ltures and lifestyles.
No trip to the Michiana area during the fall season would be complete without experiencing the ergy of a Notre Dame football game!

Rocktoberfest

Rocktoberfest is a newer tradition at Penn High School created by US History instructors Mr. Ball and Mr. Barrier. This year, it was held throughout the school day on October 31st and November 1st. This creative learning activity was centered on the significant social, political, cultural and historical moments of the 1980's. Students produced videos of 1980's newscasts, performed popular songs from the period, and gave speeches on key political or social issues from this iconic and historical decade. Everyone is also expected to dress according to the popular fashion of the decade. In just a day, these students were able to transform the studio theater into a time capsle. The upbeat, electric energy from the class of 2021 made for an exciting event for all who were involved, and helped push this new tradition forward in Penn history.

9. Arianna Thompson, Natalie Holt, Olivia Tucker, and Hailey Castro rocked the bright, neon colors of the eighties.
10. Arcade games such as Pac-Man were a major hit in the eighties.
11. Mr. Ball and his students brought lots of spirit to this exciting event.
12. Everyone at Rocktoberfest had a wonderful time celebrating the 1980's with their friends.

How have you experienced kindnesss!

"I was around 8 years old. I went grocery shopping and my mom had handed me money... but little did I know it was not enough. When I found out, the man behind me offered to pay for me and it was just an act of true kindness I'll always remember." - Jason Kwok, 10 (also pictured Kennedy and Marin Chester, 10)

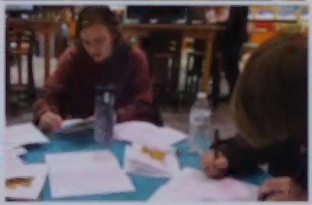
Handwritten Hearts

Why are you in this club?

Ielping people is one f my passions. When we deliver, the conversations you ave with that person can really make a difference in making ot only their lives, but yours, too!"
- Sofia Añon, 11

Handwritten Hearts is a club based on serving the community around us. Once a month, members gather in the IMC to write letters to those in need. They then get hand delivered to those in the hospital. In doing this, lives are touched and days are brightened. This club uses a simple human connection and random acts of kindness to make a big difference in the lives of others.



Young Life

'oung Life is a Christian club that focuses on elping students grow their faith as individuals nd as a group. This group meets weekly to iscuss high school, volunteering, and more. hese students look forward to camping ogether during the school year and over the ummer. Young Life is proud to be one of the ost close-knit and interactive groups at Penn.

What makes YL special to you?

"Everyone involved in the club is very special to me." - Audrey Chapman, 12

Foreign Language Clubs

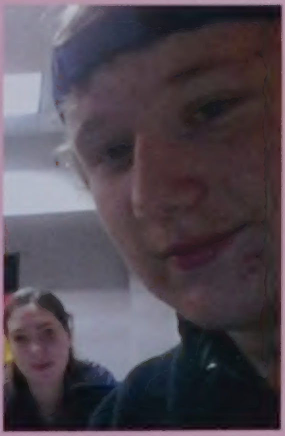
Penn High School is an incredibly diverse school. With a student body of 4,000 kids, students have a wide variety of perspectives, different ways of life, and various languages spoken. Penn provides language classes as well as many foreign language clubs. These clubs allow for further immersion in a student's culture, language, or interest. For example, students don't need to be in a German class to take German club. This only furthers the capabilities that Penn students have to experience beyond the culture they grew up in. Chinese club spends time learning more about the culture, making arts and crafts that are appropriate to the content at the meeting, and even visiting Chinatown in Chicago. Another language club that attends Chicago annually is German. They go to Christkindlmarkt to experience a market similar to that of Germany itself. At meetings they also watch German films and learn dances. In Japanese Club, members participate in cultural ceremonies like the Tea Ceremony. The next language celebrated at Penn is Spanish Club. Members enjoy Spanish holidays nearing like Dia De Los Muertos and doing crafts associated with it. It doesn't always take sound to communicate, either. Students in American Sign Language are able to sign and learn more about deaf culture.

Why do you want to learn another language?

"I love getting to learn about a different culture and way of living. I love traveling and experiencing new ways of living and learning another language gives me the chance to do so!"
- Isabel Sautter, 12

"In ASL we learn a lot about deaf culture. I really enjoy getting to learn about the culture and how that effects how the language is developed and used."
- Ben Cameron, 12

"I really want to travel later in life and being fluent in another language will make it easier to be involved in the culture and make the experience more fun."
- Allison Peffley, 12



It's a lot of fun and I made more friends than I would have without taking a language. It is fun to say something and have friends try to figure it out.
- Ethan Feller, 09

Learning a new language means you have gained the ability to connect with hundreds of thousands of people on a deeper level.
- Michelle Kwok, 12

DECA

DECA is one of the largest clubs that Penn has to offer. Students can take the class but also join the DECA club. This club revolves around three main competitions- Districts, State, and Internationals. Members can choose from a variety of project topics to work with, as students must either choose written, or role play. A role play is for people who are quick thinkers and those who can improvise on their feet. Members get a short amount of time to prepare their project and share it to judges. Students who participate in written, have one idea that they work on for the majority of the year. This type of project has a lot more work needed when presenting to judges. This year, the club was ran by Abbie Clay, Jada Edison, Addyson Farias, Jacob Eshowsky, Evan Johnson, Hayden Rivard, and Nick Ftergiotis. Several of the members made it to nationals this year! We cannot wait to see what this club accomplishes next year, great job!

Yearbook Staff

Every year, a select group of students dedicate their time towards creating the book you are now holding. Yearbook students work both in and out of the classroom everyday to enrich themselves with Penn's diverse culture in order to create this book. This year, Penn had one of it's largest group of staff members yet, led by editors Grace Julian and Dalya Tribble. Students work hard by taking photos, conducting interviews, selling advertisements and writing pieces on each organization represented within these pages. However, this class loves to have fun in between deadlines. Some of their favorite memories include watching the Twilight saga and sharing stories about their daily lives as a group.

Model UN

Model UN is a club at Penn and many other schools that allows students to simulate United Nations conferences and act as a UN delegate would. This club develops many skills such as public speaking, debating, critical thinking, teamwork, and leadership abilities. Students get to be with their friends and have fun while traveling to different colleges for competitions. Each school is assigned a specific committee to represent and at the end, individual awards are given out for exceptional delegates. These students had a very successful season, and are looking forward to next year already!

Penn's B Team and D Team took top awards at the annual TEAMS (Tests of Engineering Aptitude, Mathematics, and Science) competition at Trine University. These teams, coached by Adam Beck, qualified for nationals in Tennessee. In summer of 2019, Penn TEAMS also earned two top five placements at nationals. Both Team 1 and Team 2 of Penn's 11/12 placed fifth.

National Honor Society

A+

As one of the longest standing clubs at Penn, National Honor Society is well known for the outstanding students it is composed of. These students are selected for their excellence in the realm of the club's four pillars; character, scholarship, leadership, and service. All year, members of NHS work within the community to help foster these characteristics within themselves and others. Within school, you will often see these students helping with recycling around the school or tutoring their peers. Outside of Penn, members have the oppurtunity to engage in countless, diverse service initiatives. This year, students worked with projects such as making toys for the Humane Society to collecting toiletries and meals for the Ronald McDonald House. Every day, these bright and selfless students are working hard to make our school and the surrounding community a better place.

Which pillar of NHS means the most to you?

"To me, the most important pillar of NHS is leadership. I believe that it is so important that we care for others and set a good example. It is important that those that are younger than us have a great example to look up to." - Haley Sidorwicz, 12

"I think the pillar that means the most to me is service. A person can be the most distinguished scholar, the most persuasive leader, and have a flawless character, but if they don't give back to the community I believe they are wasting an incredible oppurtunity to put their full talents to use improving the welfare of the community." - David Simonetti, 12

Big Brothers Big Sisters

Big Brothers Big Sisters is an organization that pairs juniors and seniors with elementary students. These high schoolers help with homework, play games, and spend time with their 'little' as a positive role model. It runs year long and each student stays with their partner, creating the 'big sibling bond'.

What was your favorite memory?

"My favorite memory has to be Districts this year and waiting for the qualifiers to be announced. The suspense as well as just getting to hang out with our team and everyone else before qualifying for Nationals just summed up my experience with Debate perfectly. " - Luke Brown, 12 (Left)

"I remember at one of our bigger meets I had just had one of my best debates- in that our opponents and my partner were matched almost perfectly- and it was one of the most exhilarating and exciting matches I'd ever had. I walked out of the room on an adrenaline high after a passionate debate, and the people we had just been clashing with became our friends. We talked our way back to the cafeteria, played cards, and burst our guts laughing together the rest of the meet." - Manaal Buchh, 10

Speech & Debate

The Penn Speech and Debate team had a great season that was able to almost finish up without an impact from COVID-19. While the Debate team was able to compete at State in January, the State speech tournament was literally the weekend that school was canceled. As a team not only did their numbers grow this year, but they also think we had some great successes, especially at the State debate tournament. Lyvia Li and Luke Brown made it to the Quarter Finals in Policy Debate. Manaal Buchh and Adalia Qazi made it to the Octa-finals in Public Forum Debate Chase Wickham, Aidan Sucharetza, Kelsey Collins, Andrew Vetne, and Grace Julian made it to the Quarter-Finals in Worlds Schools Debate and then Andy Dunn, Alivia Schultz, Kriya Patel, Julia Carrier made it the semi-finals of Congress Debate. Luke Brown and Lyvia Li will be competing virtually in the National Debate Tournament this summer as well. It's safe to say that the future of Penn Speech and Debate is very bright!

Kingsmen Court

Kingsmen Court is a student government organization composed of representatives from various clubs, sports, and academies here at Penn. The primary focus of this group is to make sure the voice of our student body is present in decisions that involve the general Penn community, and to promote a positive sense of belonging for all who are enrolled here. With this goal in mind, our club tackles various initiatives throughout the school year led by our executive board, who then communicate with administration to bring these ideas to life. In the past, Kingsmen Court has notably managed Homecoming Week, the Turkey Legs Fundraiser, addressed class rankings and the valedictorian system, and more whilst promoting positive involvement with other clubs at Penn.

For twenty-six years PNN has been gathering and reporting the news of Penn High School. The class is split into three levels: introductory, advanced, and internship. The Penn News Network posts a weekly news broadcast to Youtube that looks at Penn High School events and people. PNN reporters attend academic, sporting, and social events to keep the Penn community up to date on social media channels like Youtube, Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram. You can find them by searching @pennnewsnetwork.

Robotics

Team 135 is the name of the robotics team here at Penn. Their mission is to inspire students to explore STEM and all of its possibilities through working with robotic technology. This year, Team 135 traveled in and out of state to work on improving their robots and competing against other teams with said technology. However due to the Coronavirus, their season was prematurely canceled. If you want to learn more about the Team 135, fell free to check out their personalized website at Team135.org.

What do you love about Robotics?

"I love having the chance to do what I am actually interested in, in a class unlike any other, while working with a bunch of people that are almost like family. Seeing all of our work pay off is really rewarding."
- Will Wheet, 12

"I love robotics because I get to apply the skills I've been learning in hands on projects, as well as providing me experiences I've never even dreamed of."

Spectrum

Spectrum is a literary magazine for Penn High school, and has been running for over 30 years. It features prose, poetry, and art, all of which are submitted by students at Penn to be featured. Headed by Miss Armstrong, who's been teaching the class for eight years, it's also largely made and edited by the talented staff at Spectrum, who are comprised of a variety of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. There are two magazines published in a school year - one for fall, and one for spring. They are also the hosts of Reality Cafe - an open microphone night where people share poetry, prose, and songs. This class allows students to receive recognition for their creative endeavors, and also garners them experience in fundraising, design, editing, and advertising.

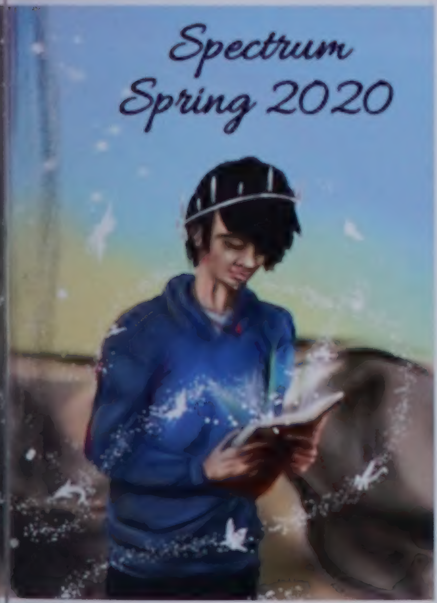
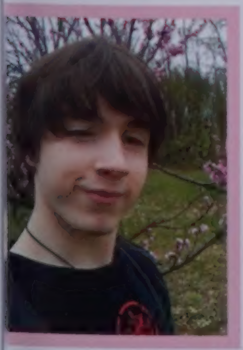
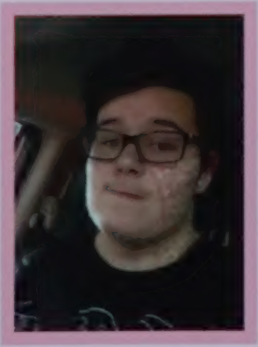
"I loved getting to learn how to make a magazine."



Why did you decide to join Spectrum?



"I joined Spectrum to meet new people, get a taste of the communications field, and further hone my creative edge."
- Liam Morris, 12



"I joined Spectrum because after taking a creative writing class I wanted to see what I could do. I loved getting to learn how to create a magazine, and I think learning Photoshop and Indesign are great skills! I also had a lot of friends in the class."
- Ben Cameron, 12

"I wanted to join Spectrum because I wanted to be apart of a class where creativity and friendship thrive. Also, I'd heard about how amazing Miss A is!"

Student Athlete Leadership Council

Penn's Student Athlete Leadership Council, or S.A.L.C., is a group of students who exemplify good sportsmanship and attitudes both on and off the field. This board of student athletes is heavily involved in promoting their team members to be engaged in bettering themselves, their teammates, and their communities. This year, the group was very active in helping Champions Together form a unified track team at Penn High School through volunteering and raising awareness for their mission. S.A.L.C. members also attended an IHSAA Conference this summer in order to learn more about how to promote strong values within Penn High School's sport teams. With clubs like S.A.L.C. partnering with our school's sports, the future is certainly bright for our student athletes on the field, in the classroom, and anywhere else life may take them.

Medical Club

Do you have an interest in the medical field? Then Penn's Medical Club is the group for you! With many hands-on learning experiences, such as dissections, and guest speakers, there is no shortage of knowledge to be gained from this group. Local doctors, nurses, and experts met with these students monthly to talk about their practice and experiences. Every year, executive members of the club come up with different activities so that returning members always have something new to learn within the medical field. The goal of this club is to help students realize their interests in the medicine, and to prepare them for pursuing this career path through college.

1. All smiles for a fun day in Med Club!
2. Sheila Patel, 11, and Tasneem Al-Fadhl, 11, showing off their hard work.

Champions Together

This is the second running year of the Penn High School Unified Track team, which is now affiliated with a statewide program called Champions Together. This group features a wonderful group of exceptional education student athletes that give it their all as they race in a number of track and field races and competitions. Unfortunately, their season was cancelled due to COVID-19, but we can't wait to watch what amazing things they will accomplish next year!

1. Some of this year's members attend a Friday night Football game sporting their Track gear and representing their team.
2. As March begins, the new team gets ready and celebrates their first official meeting.
3. Practice is typically filled with lots of fun games, and this practice's game was basketball.
4. The team poses for a picture at this year's Track or Treat party.
5. There are nothing but smiles when Coach Blazo is in charge of practices and events.
6. Members conclude one of their first practices with a lighthearted series of parachute games.
7. Champions Together held a Winter Wonderland party to raise money for their team this holiday season.

Choir

Every year, parents, students, staff, and several locals flock to one of Penn's most popular annual fine arts events, Sounds of the Season. Featuring seven different choirs, there's bound to be something for everyone to enjoy that keeps people coming back every December. Students prepare for months on end to give a show that'll truly impress. With traditions like Shepherds Awake that audience members can expect and new pieces that can surprise, each year is different, but always enjoyable for the community. Each performance begins with the candlelight entrance that saturates the audience with awe and sends members off with their classic tradition of performing the Hallelujah Chorus, inviting alumni to join in. Whether you've been in choir, know someone in choir, or are just curious to see what Sounds of the Season is all about, the show is sure to inspire all.

When has choir saved your day?

"Being in choir always brightens my spirits regardless of what's going on. I love singing, and the community that our directors foster is so encouraging and welcoming."
Bella Rondinelli, 10

"I don't know if I can think of a specific day but I know the really supportive directors and singing make me happy even on my saddest days."
Rachel Keeler, 12

Off Stage Choir

Singing together always brings people together. Outside of preparing songs to sing for their community, Penn Choir always has its own unique sense of community and family. Through class rehearsals and annual retreats, countless friends and memories are made. Countless students from the choir program would tell you that this group is like a second family to them Many find Penn Choir to be safe space where they can be themselves, and a place where they can relax during school. The choir directors, Mr. Nemeth, Mrs. Secaur, and Mr. Oke try to provide many opportunities throughout the year for students to get together out of class to hang out, have fun, and create great music together. The Penn Choir program is an excellent example of the notion that with wonderful friends comes wonderful art.

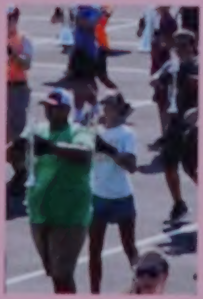
Four Bands

The different band groups here at Penn are Marching Band, Concert Band, Pep Band, Jazz Ensemble, and Chamber. The Penn Marching Kingsmen participate in band camp over the summer and perform at competitions throughout the fall. Band classes include Freshmen Band, Concert Band, Symphonic Band, and Symphonic Winds. Pep band, on the other hand, plays at basketball games. Jazz Band is also a class, while After School Jazz Orchestra plays jazz music as an extracurricular activity. Due to COVID-19, Chamber Band was unable to play this year.



What motivates you to keep playing your instrument?

Music is my passion. It is my absolute everything, playing the french horn is my most favorite thing in the world. There's an unspoken magic to real music. When you're on that football field about to start the show or standing on stage in a crowded auditorium knowing you're about to create a truly unique and moving experience through music, there's a power in the air unlike any other. A power that touches everyone's life whether it's a through their favorite song on the radio, or a soundtrack that brings their favorite movie to life, or anything number of other things. Music is something that for the entirety of human history, has been able to connect people of different languages, races, and religious backgrounds in a way nothing else ever could. It's a power that brings a great range of emotions people sometimes didn't even know they had. This magic is the power of music. This magic is what people devote their lives to. This magic is why I will keep playing music until the day I die.
Anna Voros, 11

What is your favorite part of Orchestra?

"My favorite part of Orchestra is the Orchestra family we have created over the years. I've made many friends from takeing Orchestra and we are always helping one another bettering our lives" - Kennedy Stutzman, 10

"I'd say my favorite part of Orchestra is the preformace day, talking with friends and teachers before going out and preforming is a super cool feeling " - Kellen Hanover, 10

Orchestra

The Ochestra year started off with the "Orchestra Rocks" concert with guest performer and teacher, Mark Wood, of Trans-Siberian Orchestra fame. They accompanied him on loads of rock tunes and some original Mark Wood compositions. The orchestra also had many students step-up to the front of the stage and rock-out with Mark on his electric "Viper" and "Stingray" violins and his "Cobra" cello. Junior violinist, Maya Kvaratskhelia, totally floored both Mark and the audience during "Vivaldi Rocks" as she bantered musically with Mark while they shared the electrified solo from the Four Seasons. Mark commented that he was truly impressed that Maya played this demanding arrangement as well, if not better, than he did! Freshman violinist, Wiley Weist, won the Mark Wood signed Stingray that was raffled off at the performance. Having Mark Woods in our school and performing with our students was a once-in-a-lifetime experience and it truly rocked! The holiday concert, "'Tis the Season" in December boasted many seasonal favorites including Mr. Brad Boyd narrating "The Christmas Carol" and featuring senior cellist, Tammy Shu, playing the first movement on Elgar's Cello Concerto. Tammy is headed to IU Bloomington to study cello performance in the fall. No holiday concert would be complete without performing our traditional favorites, "Hava Nagila" and Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride". Lastly, the Orhcestra was in the process of working on competition music before COVID-19 canceled out the rest of our performance year. Both our trip to Scotland to perform in the Stirling Bridge Festival and our state competitions were either postponed or canceled. We were working on the amazing Marquez "Danzon No. 2" and the Rossini "Barber of Seville Overture."

Jazz Band

For years the jazz bands have practiced and particularized paramount pieces, preparing purposely to perform the perfect production. For two years in a row that patience has qualified the Advanced Jazz Ensemble for the Indiana State Jazz Finals. However, sadly this year the Jazz Finals were canceled due to health concerns. The Intermediate Jazz Ensemble isn't slacking off either, far from it; Mr. Griesser, the Jazz Band director, has gone on record saying that they "performed at a higher level than they ever have" this year.

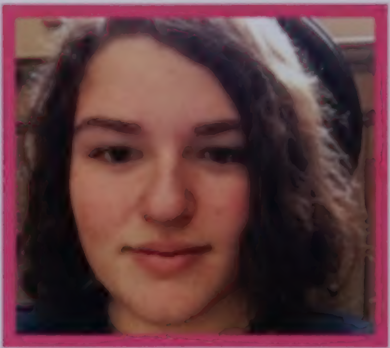
also happen to be practicing, this time on the trumpet and the trombone.
5. The Advanced Jazz Ensemble poses for a group photo the day before Penn High School temporarily closes due to health concerns.

What got you interested in Jazz/Jazz Band?

"The passion in the music and the way it makes you want to dance is amazing! To replicate that with some of my best friends is a dream come true."
- Nathaniel Clay, 12



"I wanted to try a new instrument in middle school, and I took a chance on Jazz. I really liked it and decided to keep playing in high school"

Penn Art Gallery

Every year, talented students at Penn High School have their work showcased in the school's Art Gallery. The Penn Art Gallery has multiple shows throughout the year, and allows students to work on collaborative projects such as the Portraits for Mayor Pete and the Amazon Rainforest sticker sale. These creative students are also given a chance to compete nationally through the Scholastic Art & Writing contest. This year, Penn had 10 Scholastic Art Gold Key winners: Jasmine Bennett, Kaija Boulac, Natalie Calihan, Cassidy Crane, Elle Fox, Allison Hartman, Ethan Hershberger, Sydney Jaques, Mae Kraus, and Devon Newcomer.

1. Andrew Vetne, 11, and Finn Richardson, 11, display two animal masks made by art students.

WINTER

There's nothing quite like winters in Northern Indiana. While some people love them, most others are often found wishing for warmer days in the upcoming months. With wild weather that switches on the daily, there's all kinds of things to do outside of school hours. With a particularly mild winter this school year, Penn students were able to enjoy a wide variety of activities this winter. Most commonly, students tested out their ice-skating skills or watched their peers compete in winter sports like basketball and hockey. Many students also had the chance to travel near and far over their winter vacations. Overall, our students here at Penn made the most of this chilly, unpredictable season with friends and family.

Boys' Varsity
Basketball

This school year's season of basketball has been long and hard for the players, but their work and practice seems to have paid off. They celebrated many victories this winter, most notably their win against Elkhart Central in the opening round of Sectionals, among many others. With guidance from head coach Al Rhodes, the team has worked on "the pursuit of excellence" and understanding the sport on a deeper, more meaningful level. Each and every player is working on developing the tools they need to further their athletic career and improve their skills. The experience has taught players many lessons, including leadership and dedication. This year's senior players will be missed, and we wish them the best on their basketball journey!

Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball

The Junior Varsity Boys' basketball team had a ver successful season. This team shows a lot of promise an always works hard in order to get the job done. The practiced long and hard hours, to make sure they wer always prepared for every game. The team improve significantly throughout the season due to all the hardwork. The boys became very close this year and w continue to play together next season. We are so prou of everything this team accomplished this season an cannot wait to see they do next year!

What is the hardest part about playing basketball?

"The hardest part for me is the long season. From October to March, we practice almost every single day." - Seamus Penney, 11

"Playing consistently and always playing up the coach expectations is the hardest p me. " - Jake Moore, 10.

The freshman basketball team had an incredible season this year! The boys faced the same challenge of starting on a new team with lots of new people. The team worked countless hours to make sure that they were always prepared for every game. With lots of hardwork and dedication, they pulled off an amazing year for the Kingsmen. As this was their first year playing for high school, they were very successful! We cannot wait to see what these boys do in the upcoming years, way to go!

Girls' Varsity

Basketball

This year's season was amazing for the Lady Kingsmen! During the conference season, the girls went undefeated and dominated against teams near and far. This talented group of girls have put in countless hours of hard work on and off the court in order to acheive the level of teamwork they are at. Not only do they have an incredibly skilled team, but they play with great heart and sportsmanship. All of these girls love what they do and would not trade it for the world. The seniors on the team this year were great leaders along with the amazing set of juniors. This tough team made it far in their post-season and did very well. They had an outstanding victory at Sectionals, and celebrated many milestones along the way. Congratulations on such an amazing season girls!

Girls' Freshmen Basketball

The Penn Freshman Girls Basketball team started their high school basketball careers with a bang! Winning over half of their games, the girls competed hard and had fun along the way. Coming up from middle school was a large change, but all the players stepped up and created a team that was tight-knit on and off the court. Whether they were goofing around at a bowling alley or bonding during a particularly grueling practice, they stayed positive and made sure to show their hard work during every game. These girls are ready to shine during their next 3 years as Lady Kingsmen!

Theme week! The Penn girls have twin day at practice the week before high school season ficially starts.
Aniya Taylor, 10, jumps up for a shot during the Penn vs. Northwood game.
Emma White, 9, dribbles down the court against Saint Joe's 24.
The girls all get together at Strikes and Spares for some bowling fun, a well-earned reward from eir season.
The team cheers each other on before they take the court during a home game.
Players wait to be subbed into the game and take on their opponents.

"I can't wait for the next three years of playing side by side with these girls!"

How was your first season as a Lady Kingsmen?

Pep Band

Pep Band has worked hard this season as they made memories and played songs togther. This season, they enjoyed having fun at practice and being silly, but also strengthening their bonds with each other. Their wonderful diretor Mr. Landoll kept them going and made practice fun for everyone. They get together a half an hour before each game to practice one more time before they preform. The pep band often wear different hats to add some more fun to each performance for themselves and their fans. These talented teens brought power to the game and joy to the crowds. Every year, the pep band brings a special spirit to the games that will not be forgotten, and we look forward to future seasons of fun!

Competition

Poms

The Competition Poms team is able to perform at Varsity Basketball Halftime along with competitions that lead to Regionals and then State! Sadly, this year state was canceled because of the Coronavirus. But this team worked extremely hard. With younger girls, this team really stepped up to the plate. The girls put in countless hours at practice along with in the studio. We also had our first guy ever join the team! It was such a new and exciting experience to have such a diverse team due to age and gender! We're so sad to have the season cut short but are so happy you achieved all you could!

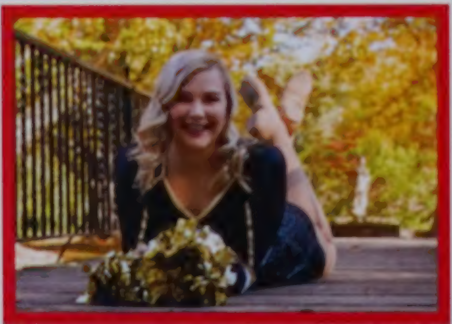
Varsity Poms

The Varsity Poms Team performs at halftime during the varsit boys' basketball season. These girls put in tons of hardwor during the season. One fun advantage of being on this tea is you get to perform bleacher routines as well! This tea works on performing difficult dances and making them loo so easy! Most of this team consists of upperclassmen bu while there are seniors performing on this team, there ar kids as young as eighth graders as well! We love you Varsit and are so happy we were able to see all of your hardwor pay off!

What advice would you give to future Pommers?



"Enjoy the time you have on the team. Everything goes so fast and in a blink, it's gone. Make friends and have the best time." - Sydney Riddle, 12

"My advice to any future pommers or dancers is to enjoy every second becaus goes by faster than you kno it!" - Marie Michalski, 12

The Junior Varsity Poms team is the introduction level of all of the poms teams! Becoming apart of this team means you have potential to then be apart of the Varsity or Competition teams. While on JV, you perfect and hone-in on skills like turns, leaps, and jumps to get better and better. During the season the team performs a few dances in order to be able to focus on their skills more than numerous dances. Good job to this year's JV dancers!

Boys Swimming
& Diving

Penn Boys Swim and Dive had a record breaking season this year, putting up times that haven't been seen since 2013. Captains Blake Trowbridge, 12, and Brock Zuyderwyk, 12, lead their team to victories at both NIC and Sectionals, even adding a win in the 200 free relay at State. The relay, consisting of Joel Cummins, 11, Brock Zuyderwyk, 12, Joseph Radde, 11, and Aaron Dies, 11, went a Penn record of 1:22.60 seconds. The Penn boys had 14 swims go down to state, and 12 of them made it to finals, which was an amazing feat. All three relays that swam broke records here at home. During the regular season, the boys didn't lose a single meet, creating a perfect record that they continued to carry into their championship season. This season, the team showed incredible strength, but none more than Tristan Zuyderwyk, who was diagnosed with cancer last year. He still showed up to practice and meets, even through his chemotherapy. The entire team rallied around him and pulled from his strength to do as well as they were able to.

Girls Swimming & Diving

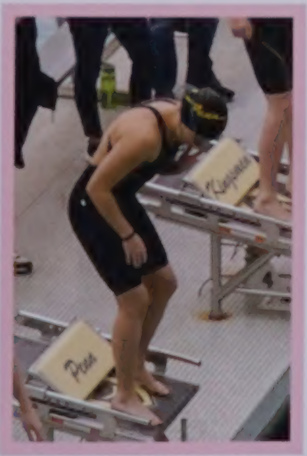
The Penn girls swimming and diving team had an amazing season this year. Through many hardships, the girls came together as a team to be one of the best teams in the area. There was no shortage of hard work in and out of the pool for these ladies, waking up before dawn and going home at dusk. The dedication of this team is something that is genuinely unique. This year, girls swimming and diving ended the season with an 11-3-1 record, making them one of the best teams in the area. Hardly any team could keep up with the kingsmen. Throughout the season, the team worked extremely hard for the Northern Indiana Conference Championships and IHSAA Sectional Championships. Alyssa Messenger, 11, was their lone champion at NIC in the 100 backstroke. At the sectional championships, the kingsmen had two champions: Alyssa Messenger, 11, also in the 100 backstroke and Bailey Betzer, 12, in diving. The combined score of swimming and diving was enough to pull ahead of rival Saint Joseph to win the sectional crown after three years! The kingsmen had several athletes qualify for the IHSAA state championships in Indianapolis. The team finished the season being 34th in the state! Their hard work and dedication really paid off this year, and its exciting to see what they accomplish in the future!

What was your favorite part of this season?

"My favorite part of the season is getting to spend time with my teammates, it makes diving more enjoyable!" - Alexis Owens, 12

"My favorite part of the season by far was when we won sectionals, it was so amazing for all of us knowing that all of our hard work had paid off and that's something I'll never forget!" - Madi Bottorff, 10

"My favorite part of season was a mix of both all the friendships that grew closer and the new friendships that I made. Also just getting better at my dives and my form and doing better in my meets." - Cece Pooler, 10



"My favorite part of the season was when we were able to come together at sectionals and back each other after every swim. It wouldn't have mattered if we won or lost because we all gave our best!" - Logan Koszyk, 11

"My favorite part of this season was working together as a team to surprisingly earn another sectional title and dropping time in my last race at state." - Izzy Costa, 12

Boys' Wrestling

The Penn Boy' Wrestling team had a great season full of amazing wins. Each and everyone of the boys on the team worked hard throughout the season. The boys won many matches and were able to form relationships while doing it. Throughout all their time training, practicing and being together they have formed a family. They will always be able to look back on their time at Penn and remember what a great bond they had. The boys will always have each other to lean on. They worked tirelessly all season long in order to be the very best they can be. Every wrestler was able to overcome injuries as well as personal hardships and leave all they had out on the mat.

As the season came to a close, Aaron Steenbeke, 9, and Vincent Sparrow, 12, got the chance to represent Penn at state. Although the boys weren't state champions, they all finished the season with amazing scores and even better attitudes. They all look forward to their next season as they have begun team workouts.

Girls' Wrestling

The Penn Girls' Wrestling team had an amazing season this year. They showed all their hard work and perseverance as they became State Champions for the fourth year in a row. They are all able to do this by putting their best into every practice and learning from each other and Coach Harper. The girls can proudly say they had a season full of wins. They are all able to walk away with a second family and support that follows them in all their adventures. As they overcame injuries, hardwork and everything in between the team won regional championships. Jaden Johnson, 12, went on to win state for her individual weight class for the fourth year running. Mackenzie Konanz, 9, also ended the season as a state champion in her weight class. They were able to accomplish this because during their off season, they all participated in club practices and team workouts. They work hard year-round and it pays off. The girls can't wait for next year's season as they have already begun preparing.

Boys' Hockey

The Penn hockey team had a great season. The team became the regular season conference champions of MHSHL Hockey, and it was the first time Penn has won this challenging title since the 2008 - 2009 season. Penn also headed to the state playsoffs, beating Homestead and LSJ, and losing against HSE and Saint Joe. Outside of the rink the team enjoyed some volunteer work and team bonding by delivering Thanksgiving dinner to families at the Ronald McDonals House at Memorial Hospital, and by volunteering at Green Bridge. Overall, the Penn Hockey team had a fun, enriching and hard-fought playing season.

How have you experienced kindnesss!

"A time I experienced genuine kindness is when a lady gave me 20 bucks to get whatever I wanted at this ice cream store in Michigan. I never met her in my life, but she told me it just felt "right" to give it to me. Her kindness inspired me to get ice cream for the people behind me which started a chain of paying forward. This was a small thing, but it really stuck with me to do small acts of kindness just because I can." - Clare Liverett (second from right) with Hannah Shely, Lauren Bell, and Cora Robison (far right).

Here is my secret, a very simple secret. It is only with the heart that one can see rightly. What is essential is invisible to the eye.

-The Little Prince

What is the biggest challenge of Winter Guard?

"The biggest challenge about this sport is having to trust yourself within your own abilities since sometimes things can get difficult, but believing in yourself is the most important part."
Olivia Binder 11

"The biggest challenge is definitely the emotional challenge. Cause sometimes I feel like I am under so much pressure that the best thing I can do is just quit. Though at the same time its that same amount of pressure that drives me to keep on spinning."
Hailey Lepird 11

Winter Guard

Penn's JV and Varsity Winter Guard members did an amazing job this year. They shared many memories in their competitions, practices, and more throughout the season. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 pandemic cut their season short in the end. Penn's Winter Guard traveled to places as far as Indianapolis and places as close as Goshen for long and taxing competitions and shows. This hard work brought the team to Semi-State, where Winter Guard scored 6th place out of the 11 teams present. This allowed them to qualify for state, which was an extraordinary feat for the Winter Guard since this year was the very first time they have ever been in an open class. Fortunately, right before the Winter Guard season was cancelled, their director Jen found a way for them. These students were able to close their season by giving one final performance in the main area with every team member, alongside their family and friends to showcase their extraordinary growth throughout this season.

A Night in The Tropics

Snowball
A Night In The Tropics

In the midst of blizzard-like conditions and freezing tempurtures, a small oasis lies within the Penn High School Main Arena- the Snowball Dance! This year's winter dance was a tropical escape from the ice and snow outside. At Snowball, there's always something for everyone to enjoy. From mosh pits to ice cream or just lounging around, there's definitely never a dull moment. This year, students enjoyed dancing with their friends and trying to make an appearance (or avoid one) on the live video screen hosted by the DJ. A Night In The Tropics was certainly one to remember for students of all grades. to look back on and smile.

What's your favorite scene?

"My favorite scene is definitely the duet I have with Golde on the bench. It's such a sweet and tender little moment that always makes my heart full!" - Jamie Peck, 12

"My favorite scene easily was "To Life." it always felt so lively and I just had so much fun with it every time we practiced and performed it." - Conner Messimer, 12

Fiddler on the Roof

Let us travel back to 1905 in the city of Antevka, a Jewish town all about traditions. This is the setting of the classic musical, Fiddler on the Roof. We follow along as Tevye experiences giving away his three eldest daughters, Tzeitel, Hodel, and Chava. But something is happening in the town of Antevka, and it's affecting everybody. Soon, traditions start to fall apart, for better or worse, and Tevye has to deal with the effects first hand, with his daughters. The Penn Theatre students had a wonderful time performing this show, and there was a great turnout as well. The show was a great way to learn about unfamiliar traditions, such as Seder, a potluck dinner celebrated during Passover that members of the cast replicated as a group. Overall, Fiddler on the Roof was a great success both on and off the stage.

SPRING

Spring is a busy time filled with the flowers blooming, sports starting up once more, and new memories being made every single day. However, this Spring was unlike any that anyone has seen before. With the pandemic, COVID-19, shutting down spring break plans, sports events, and schools nationwide- everyone had to adapt differently. Social distancing and quarantine became a normal part of life and E-Learning was the new school. However, this new lifestyle did not stop Penn students from making memories! From tailgate conversations with friends to birthday party parades, the Coronavirus did not let us keep our spirits down.

Students In Quarantine

In the early months of 2020, the world was shaken by the coronavirus, also known as COVID-19. The dangerous respitory virus spreads like wildfire, and has the potential to be deadly. Indiana, like many other states, decided to enact a statewide stay-at-home order that inherently closed all schools. As the national situation worsened, students were informed that school would remain closed for the semester. The decision was heartbreaking for both staff and students, but nessecary in order to uphold the safety of our community. However, this global pandemic is a major part of history that we are witnessing each and everyday. This yearbook is a piece of that history, showing how our Kingsman family has learned to overcome these challenging times and make the most out of a dismal situation. Our hearts are with everyone in our community as we navigate through this time of uncertainty.

Senior Boys'
Baseball

This baseball season unfortunately ended early, like most other spring sports this year. Due to the Corona Virus, the team was not able to finish their season. This is especially hard for the seniors, as it was their last year to play for Penn. But nothing keeps the Penn spirit down for long, and the boys made the best of their season and continued to work hard. We have decided to dedicate this spread to the seniors. This way their time, effort, and love, for the sport can be honored. Most of the seniors on the team, have been playing since they were little. They grew up learning and loving everything baseball had to offer for them. Once they started playing at the highschool level, their work ethic and love for the sport only grew. Although this is not the ending these players expected, the boys will have the memories of playing for Penn forever. We hope that they continue to have a the close friendships and bonds that have made by baseball. Penn thanks these players for everything they have sacraficed over the years, and how dedicated they were the their sport. We wish the best of luck to our following Senior Boys' Baseball Players- Tyler Hums, C.J. Kavadas, Kyle Kline, Ryan Lynch, Josh Messer, Zac Pixley, and Camryn Szynski.

What has baseball taught you?

"Baseball has taught me how to handle failure because there is such little success in it. Overall, baseball has made me a toughter and better person." - CJ Kavadas, 12

"Baseball has helped me become a leader and has taught me to work with other people." - Christian Elswick, 12

"This sport has taught me to not take any for advantage because you never know when it can be taken away from you." - Josh Messer, 12

Senior Boys' Golf

The Penn Boys' Golf team was looking forward to a dominating season before the coronavirus pandemic cancelled spring sports. Senior Josh Yoder explained that the team was hoping to get the year going by winning a few of the invitationals early in the season, along with winning the Sectional and Regional tournaments for the fourth year in a row. The team's ultimate goal was to make it to the State Finals and finish Top-3 in the state. Fortunately, members of the team were able to reunite to play in June for the Indiana Junior Golf Regional Team Qualifier and the Indiana Boys' Golf State Qualifier. Senior Boys'
Track and Field

The 2019-2020 Boys' Track and Field season was canceled due to the Coronavirus, their contributions to a championship legacy will live on forever. These seniors will always remember the hardwork that all team members put in, as well as the memories the Kingsmen made. We wish the best of luck to our following Senior Boys' Track and Field Players- Cassidy Allen, Payton Arendt, Luke Barker, Tiegan Bothun, Payton Brockway, Jackson Buhring, Richard Chapple, Ian Coates, Jacob Crevsiton, Brady Flanagan, Cohl Fox, Noah Gefri, Romeo Gonzalez, Nick Hardrict, Killian Heninger, Nathan Hurbough, Andrew Koszegi, Patrick Maclin, Joseph Misenar, John Morris, Vivek Patel, Josian Railton, Avery Richardson, Kevin Shim, Jaitin Soni, keno Sritaketh, Vishal Turna, Anthony Vaccaro, and Chase Wickham.

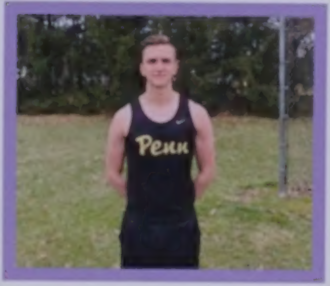
What were some of your goals for your 2020 season? How did you react when it was cancelled?



"My first goal was to put together a full throw. My second goal was to throw 140ft. When I learned that the season was canceled I was devastated to say the least. I wasn't able to compete with my teammates this year which is by far the most fun part of the track season."
-Payton Arendt

"My goals were to go undefeated in both events until the state meet winning conference, sectionals, and regionals. Honestly when I found out that the season was canceled I let out a few tears because I had put in so much work as well as the rest of the team."
-Vishal Turna

Senior Girls'

Track & Field

The 2019-2020 season of Track & Field ended before it could even start. However, this year's seniors still have years of memories from their time at Penn Track. Hundreds of races, relays, practice hours, struggles, laughs, and friendships will be remembered for years to come. Not only did Track teach these girls how to become better runners, but was also a vessel to meet girls they wouldn't have met in other circumstances. Even though Covid-19 ruined this season, it's certain that these seven seniors this year will carry on their skills through college and beyond. We wish the best of luck to our following Senior Girls' Track and Field Players- Ceylon Barnes, Abbie Clay, Abbigail Garwood, Natalie Hartman, Adriana Juarez, Amandeep Kaur, and Brooke Neal.

Senior Boys'

Lacrosse

While their season may have been cancelled due to the COVID-19, this spring was memorable for the senior members of the Penn Boy's Lacrosse team. There were no games to be played or practices to attend, but these boys still worked hard through it all as a team. The seniors might not get to play on the field together again, but this time off from school has given them the chance to look back at past seasons and witness the hard work and dedication that got them through their four years together playing lacrosse. The players have certainly faced a challenge by not being able to play their senior seasons, but this doesn't take away the fact that they are like a family. We wish the best of luck to the following Senior Boys' Lacrosse Players- Nicholas Ftergiotis, David Dziadula, Cade Hurley, Philipp Roehm, Dawson Pontius, Nathan Turner, Zach Kolmodin, Payton Voorde, Karson Warner, Garrett Weston, Jake Leininger and Owen Bartus.

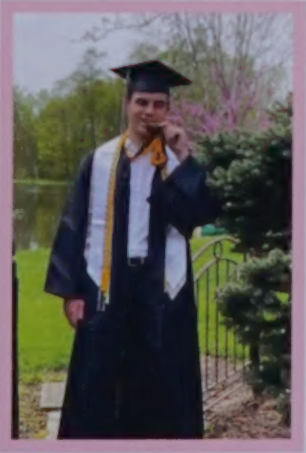
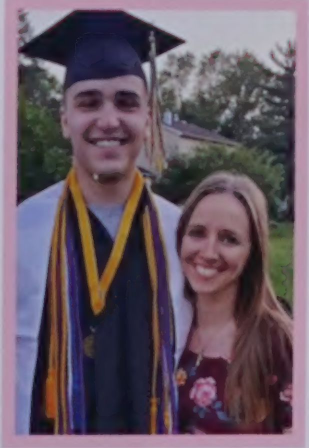
"My goal was to try and get as far as we could in our season and to have as much fun as I could for my last year," Payton Voorde, 12.



The goals I had for the season were to make it into the state playoffs and to beat all the teams in Northern Indiana," David Dziadula, 12.

"To redefine the culture of Penn lacrosse. Instead of a huge hype in the preseason and a subpar regular season we finally had the opportunity to change what Penn lacrosse was truly about," Zach Kolmodin, 12.



"To hopefully win state and enjoy the season," Nick Ftergiotis, 12.

Senior Girls Lacrosse

Although this Lacrosse season barely started before COVID-19 struck, it was definitely a season to remember. Each of these senior girls worked so hard towards the goals they wanted to accomplish this spring. The Varsity team was fortunate to attend one tournament, and ended up winning all 3 games they played. This one successful tournament is symbolic of the domination these girls planned for this spring. This time off from school and lacrosse has allowed these girls to relfect on their four years plaing for Penn. This sport has brought about many great memories and friendships to be cherished forever. We wish the best of luck to the following Senior Girls' Lacrosse Players- Josslyn Kirkpatrick, Maddi Ash, Megan Jennings, Haley Sidorowicz, and Aislynn Alkire.

Senior Boys Rugby

Whether it is on or off the field, the Senior Boy's Rugby player have become a family over the last four years. Seeing all the har work that they put into this team shows how much it really pay off. Though the seniors didn't get to play this season due t COVID-19, they will remember the fond memories made i previous years. We wish the best of luck to the following Senio Boys' Rugby Players- Eltayeb Ahmed, Payton Brockway, Nic Hardrict, Oluwabukola Idowu, Blake Knepple, Patrick Maclin Grant Reppert, Brenden Toombs, Antuan Tu, Domonic House Sam Williams, and Alex Kennach.

One word to describe your rugby seasons?

"One word to summarize Penn Rugby would be "brotherhood" or ""fraternity" because it is a program where everyone looks out for each other," - Sam Williams, 12

"The one word I would use t describe this season would b "irritating" but the other seasons I could say they we "imperishable" - Grant Repp 12

The 2020 season taken from these seniors because of the COVID-19 pandemic closing schools across the nation. While it was certainly a heart-breaking loss, these girls learned how to rise above by celebrating past memories and successes. The Penn Girl's Rugby team has had an outstanding legacy over their four years of playing that has won them lots of awards and built friendships that will last a lifetime. We wish the best of luck to our following Senior Boys' Lacrosse Players- Jade Bennett, Kelly Kirk, Cassie Norris, and Anjali Pant.

What would you tell younger players of your team?

"I would tell younger players to stick with it even when it gets hard. Yes, not every moment is going to be a game winning celebration. You're going to have practices where all you want to do is stop. But the coaches make you go through hard times because they want every win to be well deserved. They want you to know hard work pays off." - Kelly Kirk, 12

Spring Play:

Peter Pan

"The show must go on" has never been a more appropriate theatri phrase than it has been during the spring 2020 semester! While it m be a common phrase used throughout the world, it's origins are in t theatre, and Penn theatre exemplified that phrase in their spri production of Peter Pan. Since in person practices couldn't happ nor could an in person show, many improvisions were made so t show could continue anyway. The auditions and cast list happen right before school was shut down, so while a digital production w never what any of these thespians imagined, they pulled out all t stops to make it work! On Friday May 22nd, Penn aired this digi performance of this classic piece. Our community couldn't have be prouder of their ability to adapt to such a difficult situation and th determination to bring joy and the arts to such a necessary period our collective experience.

Academic

Superbowl

Unfortunately, like many activities, the Academic Superbowl team ended up a victim of the COVID-19 shut down for the 2019-2020 season. They had only competed in a single tournament when school was closed. Hope remained for a couple weeks that we would be able to return to things as normal, but as time progressed it became apparent that wasn't going to happen. When school was closed for good for the rest of the year, the only Academic Superbowl performance was at least in the books. While many other events never got a single chance to shine, the team could at least hold on to the success they had in this single meet. Thank you all for your hard work and dedication to the academic success of our school! You didn't get your chance to bring this season to fruition, but we all have faith you will come back next year even stronger.

Dance Marathon

Penn Dance Marathon is a philanthropic club dedicated to raising money for Riley Children's Hospital. Throughout the year, their executive team organizes many opportunities in the community to fundraise. Events like these include restaurant nights, hosting winter parties for elementary kids and painting workshops! Dancers participate by inviting friends and family to join them and then portions of the money go straight to Riley! These events help dancers reach their individual fundraising goals and push them as much as possible for Riley kids. This year, there were three dances who made it to the Comma Club by raising over $1,000 each. These three ladies were Grace Julian, 12, Megan Maurer, 12, and Grace Kruse, 12. This year, the marathon was canceled due to the coronavirus, but the team still made a fun announcement of their grand total. During the 2019-2020 school year, Dance Marathon was able to raise $25,008.12 all for the kids!

How have you experienced kindness?

"I've found the greatest kindness in the people at Penn. It's the stranger in my French class who became one of my closest friends, the teacher who doesn't know me but still asks how my day went, and the custodian who helped me find my phone after I lost it in the library for the fourth time. It's these people (and so many more) who make Penn what it is with their kindness." - Karen Wang, 12 (Kingsmen Of The Year)

Graduation

The COVID-19 pandemic might have pushed Penn's traditional Commencement ceremony online, but there was no stopping them from celebrating their outstanding Class of 2020. The ceremony was broadcasted live on YouTube for seniors to watch with their families and friends from home. This year, roughly 820 students earned their diplomas and embarked on the next, exciting new chapters of their lives. This year's graduating class of seniors earned more than $9 million in scholarships. The Class of 2020 has so much to be proud of, especially as they rised above the adversity posed by this global crisis. Congratulations to the Class of 2020, and best of luck in your future endeavors!

How have you experienced kindnesss?

"While practicing social distancing, we have packaged thousands of meals at Cultivate Food Rescue for their weekly backpack program. I took my Exceptional Education students once a month from September March to package food. We packaged 1,696 meals for food insecure kindergarten and first graders. Thos 300+ meals we made that night directly helped those affected by COVID-19/Shelter in Home Order. At the time, we had no idea how much our volunteer efforts would have to do for so many. "

MEOW

Grace & Dalya,

The rest of the yearbook staff and I cannot even begin to express how thankful we all are of the dedication and long hours you have poured into this book. You met with me in the previous summer to set up templates, establish the theme, and lay the groundwork. When we were able to be in school, you kept our ship organized and on the right course. When we unfortunately had to work remotely due to COVID, you never faltered. It is purely because of your additional workload, love, creativity, and care that this book was able to be finished. I am endlessly proud of you both, not just for your dedicated efforts to work, but also to fun and to joy and to laughter. It has been the pleasure of my career to work with you both. May this book last forever, just like Edward and Bella.

All my love, KP
